REVIEW & INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Fund was up 1.17% for the month; outperforming its benchmark by 0.53%. The outperformance was contributed by the Utility sector. At the stock level, overweight in Tenaga and Kumpulan Perangsang contributed. YTD-FY, the Fund is up 11.86% for an outperformance of 2.91% against its benchmark.

The economic recovery in the US is gaining traction while recent indicators point to a mild recovery in Europe. Japan is expanding under quantitative easing and economic growth in China should sustain at 7.0%. Such conditions should be positive for equities. But with global liquidity conditions normalising, investors will focus on earnings growth; and the outlook at the moment is one of slowing growth as GDP growth forecasts in the region are being lowered.

We have lowered the beta of the Fund following Fitch's downgrade of Malaysia's credit outlook. Further, we favour stocks with high earnings visibility and defensive growth characteristics. We remain overweight the Oil & Gas sector but remain Neutral to Underweight for all other sectors.

REVIEW & INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Fund gained 1.02% in July, outperforming the benchmark by 0.54%. YTD-FY, the Fund gained 7.17% while the benchmark gained 5.72%. During the month, Equity outperformed while Fixed Income underperformed. The outperformance from Equity came mainly from overweighting Tenaga Nasional and Kossan Rubber Industries. For fixed income, the main contributors were the construction banking, and power bonds in the Fund.

With the ongoing growth in the US, mild recovery in Europe, Japan expanding and China soft but not collapsing, equities should continue with their uptrend. However, with global liquidity conditions normalising, investors will focus on earnings growth prospects. Although consensus earnings are expected to continue to be downgraded, the pace of downgrade is slowing. We continue to be invested in stocks with high earnings visibility and growth characteristics.

The KLCI looks fair as it currently trading at 15.2X 2014 earnings, compared to its 5-year average of 14.1X. With Fitch downgrading Malaysia's sovereign credit rating, there may be more foreign selling in the coming months. We have reduced the portfolio's beta in favour of more defensive stocks and stocks that benefit from Petronas' RM300b capex programme and Economic Transformation Programme such as those in the oil & gas and constructions sectors. For fixed income, we will maintain a trading stance on government securities and continue to overweight corporate bonds with focus on higher rated issues.

REVIEW & INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Fund's performance for the month of July was -0.25% underperformed its benchmark return by 0.49%.

The monetary policy committee ("MPC") meeting during the month saw Bank Negara Malaysia ("BNM") maintaining the policy rate steady at 3% as widely expected. Balanced against muted inflation and unsteady growth going into the second half of 2013 ("2H13"), we are inclined to believe that Malaysia's key rate will be unchanged at 3% for the rest of the year.

Yields are likely to be soft in the immediate term and any opportunistic rallies are expected to be capped by profit taking should the Fed stay on course for tapering towards the year end. The decision to start tapering will largely be dependent towards the US economy growth and the unemployment numbers in the next few months. The market is behaving with increased volatility with the recent events and as such, we are inclined to stay cautious and prefer to be defensive.

We like the short end of the curve and avoid taking on excessive duration risk. In terms of corporate credits, we favour familiar liquid names and advocate conserving cash to invest in higher yielding new credit papers coming into the market in the latter half of the year.

The investment is subject to the following risks:-

1. Market risk - The risk that arises due to developments in the market environment and typically includes changes in regulations, politics, technology and the economy. Diversification of the Fund's investments into different unit trust funds of different types (equity or non-equity etc.) and with different investment policy and strategies may help to mitigate its exposure to market uncertainties and fluctuations in the market.
2. Profit rate risk - This risk is crucial in a Sukuk fund since Sukuk portfolio management depends on forecasting interest rate movements. Generally, demand for Sukuk move inversely to interest rate movements therefore as interest rates rise, the demand for Sukuk decrease and vice versa. Furthermore, Sukuk with longer maturity and lower profit rates are more susceptible to interest rate movements. Sukuk are subject to interest rate fluctuations with longer maturity and lower profit rates Sukuk being more susceptible to such interest rate movements. This risk can be mitigated through continuous monitoring and evaluation of macro-economic variables to ensure the most appropriate strategy is in place for the Fund's portfolio.
3. Credit / Default Risk - Bonds are subject to credit/default risk in the event that the issuer of the instrument is faced with financial difficulties, which may decrease their credit worthiness. This in turn may lead to a default in the payment of principal and interest/ profit.
4. Liquidity Risk - Liquidity refers to the ease of converting an investment into cash without incurring an overly significant loss in value. Should there be negative developments on any of the issuers, this will increase liquidity risk of the particular security. This is because there are generally less ready buyers of such securities as the fear of a credit default increases. The risk is managed by taking greater care in security selection and diversification.
5. Non-compliance risk - Non-adherence with laws, rules, regulations, prescribed practices, internal policies and procedures may result in tarnished reputation, limited business opportunities and reduced expansion potential for the management company. Investor's investment goals may also be affected should the fund manager not adhere to the investment mandate. This risk can be mitigated through internal controls and compliance monitoring.
6. Inflation Risk - Inflation risk can be defined as potential intangible losses that may arise from the increase in prices of goods and services in an economy over a period of time. Inflation causes the reduction in purchasing power and if the rate of inflation is constantly higher than the rate of returns on investments, the eventual true value of investments could be negative.
7. Issuer risk - This risk refers to the individual risk of the respective companies issuing the securities. Specific risk includes, but is not limited to changes in consumer tastes and demand, legal suits, competitive operating environments, changing industry conditions and management omissions and errors. However, this risk is minimised through investing in a wide range of companies in different sectors and thus function independently from one another.
8. Country risk - The foreign investments may be affected by risks specific to the country in which investments are made such as changes in a country's economic fundamentals, social and political stability, currency movements, foreign investment policies and etc. This risk may be mitigated by conducting thorough research on the respective markets, their economies, companies, politics and social conditions as well as minimising or omitting investments in such markets.
9. Management Risk - There is risk that the management may not adhere to the investment mandate of the respective fund. With close monitoring by the investment committee, back office system is being incorporated with limits and controls, and regular reporting to the senior management team, the management company is able to manage such as risk.
10. Fund Management Risk - Poor management of the fund due to lack of experience, knowledge, expertise and poor management techniques would have an adverse impact on the performance of the fund. This may result in investors suffering loss on their investment of the fund.
11. Shariah risk - The risk that arises from potential revision on the status of the securities in the unit trust fund from Shariah compliant to non-Shariah compliant and the possibility of investing in non-Shariah compliant unit trust funds. This risk may be mitigated by conducting periodic review by Shariah Compliance Department and Shariah Committee. Thus necessary action to be taken by Fund Manager to dispose such securities as per advice by Shariah Compliance Department and Shariah Committee.
